1. Introduction and Rationale

At Landau Forte Academy Amington, we champion a holistic educational approach, uniting Personal, Social, Health, and Economic (PSHE) education with the core tenets of Character Education. Our policy underscores our steadfast dedication to fostering empowered, morally conscious, and versatile individuals primed for success in today's ever-evolving society. Through a robust PSHE curriculum, we are committed to nurturing the holistic development of every member of our Academy community, ensuring their personal, social, health, and economic well-being flourishes. This policy serves as a beacon, inspiring and empowering our students to embody kindness, confidence, thoughtfulness, and responsibility, thereby enriching their roles as proactive citizens within their communities.

2. Policy Aims

This policy aims to:

- Harmonise statutory and non-statutory guidelines for PSHE, RSE, Citizenship, and KS4 RE with broader educational objectives essential to the Amington community, ensuring a cohesive approach to personal and character development.
- Provide a structured curriculum approach to PSHE, guiding practice, and offering a clear framework for teaching.
- Clarify the intended outcomes for PSHE provision within the school.
- Uphold and reinforce the academy's core values of ambition, bravery, and kindness.

Additionally, the aims of PSHE and Citizenship education in our academy are to:

- Ensure compliance with statutory requirements, including Relationships and Sex Education (RSE) and health education.
- Foster the development of critical life skills, emotional intelligence, and ethical reasoning.
- Empower students to actively participate in their communities and the global landscape.
- Equip students with knowledge and skills relevant to various aspects of life beyond the classroom.

3. Definition of Character Education and Structure of PSHE:

Character Education at Landau Forte Academy Amington integrates elements of PSHE, Citizenship, and statutory Key Stage 4 Religious Education, nurturing students' personal and social development alongside their academic journey. This comprehensive program empowers students to realize their full potential by embodying the values of ambition, bravery, and kindness.

The PSHE curriculum is structured around three core areas:

Health and Wellbeing:

- Mental health awareness
- First aid
- Puberty and physical health
- Diet and exercise
- Substance abuse and sexual health
- Stress management and personal responsibility

Relationships:

- Sexual and non-sexual relationships
- Indicators of positive and negative relationships
- Roles and responsibilities of parents
- Diversity and inclusion
- Coping with relationship breakdowns
- Consent and addressing abusive behaviours

The Wider World:

- Citizenship and governmental structures
- Legal systems and the judiciary
- Political engagement
- Employment rights and financial literacy
- Community engagement and human rights

Each lesson plan is aligned with one of these categories, ensuring a comprehensive and well-rounded educational experience for our students.

3. Curriculum Design and Delivery Overview:

The PSHE curriculum has been designed using PSHE Association's thematic framework, taking into account the three themes: Health and Wellbeing, Relationships and Sex Education and Living in the Wider World. This thematic approach fosters a profound understanding of diverse issues impacting both personal lives and communities. Refer to our relationships and sex education policy for details about what we teach, and how we decide on what to teach, in this subject. The curriculum map provides more details about what we teach for each year group, including the long term plan (Appendix 1) and medium term plan (Appendix 2).

As stated above, we are required to cover the content for Relationships and Sex Education, and health education, as set out in the statutory guidance. Parents have the right to withdraw their children from those parts of RSE not within the national curriculum – See SRE Policy for further guidance.

Character Education sessions, scheduled for one hour every two weeks at both KS3 and KS4, will concentrate on PSHE topics. This encompasses the breadth of PSHE, meeting all statutory RSHE requirements, including Relationships, Sex and Health Education, as well as economic wellbeing and careers. Learning opportunities are spread across three core themes: Health and Wellbeing, Relationships, and Living in the Wider World. This draws from the national program of study for PSHE education that is endorsed by the Department for Education.

Furthermore, additional time during Personal Tutor sessions and designated drop-down days will be allocated to enrich students' comprehension of Personal Development and Citizenship issues.

4. Curriculum Integration:

Within our Character Education framework, interconnectedness plays a pivotal role, ensuring students receive a comprehensive education that spans various perspectives and disciplines. At Key Stage 3, students build upon the knowledge, understanding, skills, attributes, and values acquired during the primary phase. PSHE education acknowledges and addresses the changes young people undergo, starting with the transition to secondary school, navigating the challenges of adolescence, and embracing increasing independence. It imparts the knowledge and skills necessary to equip students for the opportunities and challenges life presents. Students learn to navigate diverse relationships, manage their online presence, and critically engage with the influence of peers and media.

Moving into Key Stage 4, students deepen their knowledge and understanding, refine their skills, and further explore attitudes, values, and attributes cultivated during Key Stage 3. PSHE education recognizes that students are transitioning towards an independent role in adult life, assuming greater responsibility for themselves and others.

Furthermore, PSHE and Citizenship themes are interwoven and throughout subjects such as English, Religious Education, Geography, History, Mathematics, Business, ICT, Science, and Technology. We establish a safe and supportive learning environment in each context by implementing ground rules. Continuous Professional Development (CPD) opportunities for our staff ensure that our instructional delivery remains effective and impactful.

5. Statutory Requirements

This policy ensures compliance with the following statutory requirements:

- Revised Department for Education statutory guidance will state that from September 2020 all schools must deliver: Relationships Education (Primary) and Relationships and Sex Education (Secondary)
- Under the Education Act 2002, all schools must provide a balanced broadly-based curriculum which: promotes the spiritual, moral, cultural, mental and physical development of students at the school and of society and prepares students at the school for opportunities, responsibilities and experiences of later life
- The 2006 Education and Inspections Act placed a duty on Governing Bodies to promote the wellbeing of Students at the school
- We must teach relationships and sex education (RSE) under the Children and Social Work Act 2017, in line with the terms set out in statutory guidance.
- We must teach health education under the same statutory guidance
- This policy also complies with the terms of our funding agreement

6. Parental Engagement

Regular communication and consultation opportunities will inform parents about the curriculum, while students are encouraged to contribute their perspectives, fostering a sense of ownership and engagement.

Parents will not be able to withdraw their child from relationships education in secondary school. At the secondary school level, parents will be able to withdraw their child from sex education (other than the sex education which is part of the science curriculum). However, a child will have the right to opt into sex education from their 15th birthday (specifically three academic terms before they turn 16), even if it is against their parents' wishes.

Before granting a withdrawal request, a meeting will take place with the parents and, as appropriate, with the student to ensure their wishes are understood and to clarify the nature and purpose of the curriculum. The school will respect the parents' request to withdraw the student up to and until three terms before the student turns 16. After that point, if the student wishes to receive sex education, the school will make the provision. If a student is withdrawn from sex education, the school will ensure the student receives purposeful education during the period of withdrawal. The school will keep a record of all such decisions.

7. Implementation and Delivery (See Appendix 1 and 2)

Teaching Methods

In our steadfast commitment to fostering effective teaching and learning practices, we employ a diverse array of engaging methodologies tailored to meet the needs of all students. These methodologies include project-based learning, interactive workshops, and guest speaker sessions.

New topics in PSHE will be introduced with consideration of students' prior knowledge. Research indicates that attempts to scare or shock young people into making healthy choices are rarely effective and often counterproductive. Students will be reassured that the majority of young people make positive, healthy lifestyle choices.

PSHE and RSE often draw on students' real-life experiences. To create a safe and supportive learning environment, ground rules will be established in each context for the delivery of subject material. Staff delivering PSHE and RSE will ensure that students who may be at risk receive appropriate support by liaising with the pastoral team and adhering to the School's Child Protection and Safeguarding Policy. Staff will receive continuous professional development (CPD) to support them in delivering the statutory framework, including how to approach controversial topics or difficult questions from students. This will ensure that personal beliefs and attitudes do not influence teaching.

PSHE topics are seamlessly integrated into our curriculum through various mediums, including assemblies, guest speakers, workshops, whole-school events, and external visits.

Resources

Our policy emphasizes the use of accredited sources from the PSHE Association in lesson planning. Lessons are differentiated to cater to the diverse needs of all students.

To further enhance our instructional strategies, we have adopted resources from 'The Talk.' 'The Talk' provides an innovative approach to PSHE education, simplifying the learning process for students. Their resources are designed to equip students with essential life skills while comprehensively addressing all statutory PSHE topics. By incorporating expertise from various fields, 'The Talk' ensures that students receive a well-rounded PSHE education. This standardized approach guarantees consistent quality in PSHE instruction throughout our institution.

PSHE will be delivered using a range of sources accredited by the PSHE Association to support the statutory framework (2020). Lessons are fully differentiated to ensure the curriculum meets the needs of all students.

Counselling Services

Students are made aware of counselling and information services both in and out of school and offered appropriate support.

8. Assessment and Evaluation

Utilising a blend of formative and summative multiple-choice question assessments, we track students' progress, assessing their understanding and application of the curriculum. As necessary, adjustments are made to maintain relevance and effectiveness.

The PSHE Lead, in collaboration with the Senior Leadership Team (SLT), oversees the monitoring and evaluation of PSHE delivery. This comprehensive approach includes:

- Conducting thorough lesson observations
- Facilitating insightful student voice interviews
- Implementing varied formative assessment activities
- Assessing the application of knowledge in wider school participation

Regular reviews and updates of the curriculum are conducted to ensure its ongoing relevance and effectiveness. Student voice will be influential in adapting and amending the material for PSHE and RSE to ensure it is up to date and relevant.
